

Mana Products Inc

Helping to lead innovation through people at a premier cosmetics company known for it, Mana Products is the world's leading contract and private label manufacturer of prestige beauty products and moving into the branded space. Located in Long Island City, Queens NY

Position Title: Skin Care Hair Care Chemist

1. Responsible to record in the personal book and then transfer to the lab. book every formula submitted to the customer
2. Responsible to take specifications of the product, conduct stability and record the information in the special logs
3. Responsible to clean the bench and reorganize the samples (clean containers, expired chemicals, fresh labels) daily and maintain a healthy work environment
4. Responsible to study any scientific information related to formulating skin care hair care products
5. Formulate and evaluate skin care and hair care products
6. Execute the product development requests for skin care and hair care in a timely manner as requested by different customers
7. Present scientific material with application in skin care and hair care, based on the literature received from vendors, monthly

Requirements

3-5 years experience in a similar environment

Applicants please send your resume to: employment@manaproducts.com